MORE WINDOW DISPLAYS

This Season Also Marks the Fifth Anniversary of One of the Dry Goods Establishments, the Vaughan Store.

This holiday season marks the fifth anniversary of one of the dry goods stores of the city. Five years ago on the 17th of December, the Vaughan store was started. The store employed three clerks when it was first started and a fair estimate of the growth of the business can be gained from the fact that the store now employs an average of eight or nine clerks. The store is offering special inducements to Christmas buyers this season and has an unusually large stock of holiday goods. The windows are well filled with seasonable articles, in the north window being shown ladies' gloves, scarfs, neckwear and many other articles all tastefully arranged on a white background and decorated with red and green. The south window shows

A line of white shirt waists, collars and umbrellas and the whole is trimmed with holly.
S. J. Segel & Co. are showing two pretty decorated windows. In one is a well-decorated line of shirts, neckwear, hosiery and suspenders and in the other window is a line of overcoats, suits, suit cases and slippers. Both windows are tastefully decorated in red, green and purple and in the center of each hangs a "Merry Christmas" motto in a green wreath between two red balls.
The Daylight store has an excellent display in both windows. In the north window is shown an excellent display of ladies' and children's garments, fur well arranged and decorated with a lattice work of red and white. The south window is artistically trimmed in light green and pink, with a "Merry Christmas" motto and in the center is a well-filled Christmas tree and arranged around the remainder is a line of novelties for all the members of the family.
The window of Miss Miles' millinery store is prettily arranged and shows a line of hats and hand-painted china arranged on a white background and surrounded with sprigs of holly. The south window shows a line of hardware store is showing a fine line of skates, cutlery, food choppers and wringers in the windows.
In Reynolds & Son's store, the north window is filled with a display of nicked white steps and the whole trimmed with sprigs of holly. The south window shows a line of cutlery, including knives, razors, shears, carrying sets, all arranged on a white bank and trimmed with wreaths of holly.
The south window of the City bakery is devoted to a winter scene and shows a sugar cottage against a background of evergreen and lowering over it an airship constructed of sugar, from which Santa Claus is descending, with his arms filled with toys.
At the E. A. Drown drug store the south window is devoted to a display of confectionery in fancy boxes and at the top is displayed a series of large holly wreaths. In the north window is shown a display of writing materials, including Waterman fountain pens, desk sets and stationery in boxes, the whole trimmed with red Christmas bell and holly.
C. W. Averill & company, the hardware merchants, have displayed in their window a reliable line of cutlery, such as pocket knives, razors and carving sets, and also chaffing dishes and other necessities of the household.
The window of the Hardware store has the appearance of a snow floor, and on the back is a striped effect of purple and white crepe.
The three showy windows in the new Arcade building contain a tastefully arranged display of many of the different things to be found in this enterprising store, ranging from a Teddy bear to ready-made suits for men or women. The south window is devoted to articles from their toy department, while the middle window shows a choice line of things to be found in their dry goods department and in the last window are up-to-date ready-made suits for men.
The Benton Hardware store's trio of windows are very attractively decorated. In one window, in which the color scheme of the decorations is white with three kite-shaped panels in green and white across the back, beautiful vases and chaffing dishes are shown. In the next window the decorations are more elaborate, the principal feature being a large representation of a lyre and a little child is represented as playing it. Here cut glass pieces are to be seen. The last window is devoted to a display of countless toys and a train of cars is moving around on a circular track.
A tasteful and choice display of ladies' handbags and wallets, fur gloves, etc., is to be seen in one of the two windows of the Veale & Knight dry goods store, and in the other window pretty dress goods are principally shown.
Clocks, watches and jewelry of all kinds are in the window of L. P. Austin's jewelry store beside the Nichols block.
The next building, which is occupied entirely by the Union Clothing store, in one of the windows a hunting scene is represented. A hunter, with gun in hand, is just entering the spruces, and on the trees are hung all kinds of haberdashery, and in the snow at the foot of the trees are warm slippers for men. In the other window is a fine outlay of stylish ready-made suits for men.

Of More Pacific Coast Rioting—The Jiji Shimpo Only Fears That the Anti-Japanese Sentiment May Be Encouraged.

Tokio, Dec. 19.—The Jiji Shimpo, an independent paper which has a wide circulation in intellectual and business circles, will publish an editorial article to-day on the dispatch of the American fleet to the Pacific.

"This is a noteworthy naval undertaking," the paper will say, "one that will attract the attention of the world. We do not entertain the idea for even one moment, however, that the purpose of the trip is to threaten Japan. Should the American fleet visit these shores, it will receive a most cordial reception, worthy the special friendship between Japan and the United States."

"Our only fear is that the dispatch of the fleet may encourage anti-Japanese sentiment on the Pacific coast and bring about a repetition of the regrettable incident at San Francisco. We trust, however, that the United States authorities will take the necessary precautions in this regard."

The expressions of this newspaper are almost universally shared by the thinking public of Japan.

Chinese to Give Hospitals, Schools and Mail Service to Lhasa.

Peking, Dec. 19.—The throne has sanctioned the construction of a telegraph line into Lhasa, the capital of Thibet and the residence of Dalai Lama, the supreme head of the Lamaist hierarchy. This innovation was recommended by the Chinese resident at Lhasa, who, since the advent of the British expedition of 1904, has been working for the enlightenment of the Thibetans. The throne furthermore will give hospitals, schools, and a mail service to Lhasa, and it is reported that a request has been made for permission to publish a newspaper there.

INVITE A TEST

Red Cross Pharmacy Asks Catarrh Sufferers to Try Hyomei on Their Guarantees.

The Red Cross pharmacy invite all who suffer from any form of catarrhal troubles to get a Hyomei outfit from them with their absolute guarantee that if it does not give perfect satisfaction, the money will be refunded upon request.
There is no other treatment for catarrh that in any way resembles Hyomei, and that gives such quick, certain results and lasting satisfaction, no medicine that can take its place, none that can be sold on a guarantee like this, to refund the money unless it cures.
Catarrh is a germ disease and can be cured only by breathing Hyomei, so that the more remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs are reached by its anti-septic healing powers. In this way all catarrhal germs are killed, the irritated mucous membrane is healed and catarrh is driven from the system.
This wonderful medicated air treatment does not drug and derange the stomach, but is breathed through a little pocket inhaler that goes with every dollar outfit.
The unusual way in which Robert & Wills Hyomei attests their confidence in the remedy.

The death of H. H. Gilson, which occurred on Saturday, removes an old resident and one who has long been a familiar person in business circles. Hiram Harlegh Gilson was the seventh of ten children of Samuel and Fannie (Pinney) Gilson, born in Barnard, Jan. 17, 1832. For many years he was associated with his brothers in Minneapolis in the hotel business. Later in life he came to Bethel and purchased the property known as the Bethel mill, which business he operated successfully till about fifteen years ago, when he retired from active business. He was identified with other town interests, having been a director of the White River bank, and an attendant at the Universalist church in earlier years. In 1862 he married Jennie S. Gay, daughter of the late Merrick Gay of Gayville, whose death occurred in May, 1902, leaving one adopted daughter.
Twelve years ago he married Estella, only daughter of Mrs. Mary A. Hodgkins, and to them was born one son, Hiram Harlegh, both of whom survive him. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Maria Sylvester and Mrs. Sarah Sturtevant of this village, and one brother, Carlton S. Gilson of Nyack, New York. The funeral services were held at his late home on Monday, the Rev. Goodwin officiating. The bearers were Messrs. Ed. and Rollin Gilson, George H. Tupper and W. T. King, and the interment was in the Church Hill cemetery.

The people in town were greatly shocked on Tuesday at the news of the death of Mrs. Harlegh, which occurred at the home of her aunt, who lives in Stowe. Mr. and Mrs. Harlegh and two children spent Thanksgiving in Stowe, where she was taken ill and her disease rapidly developed, which resulted in her death. Mrs. Harlegh was born in Stowe, Vt., and had reached the age of 55 years. Most of her life had been passed with relatives in Stowe. One year ago last October she married Mr. Harlegh, and went to Bethel to reside. Mr. Harlegh was employed on the erection of the new bank building. In her short residence here, she has gained many friends who deplore her early death. Mr. Harlegh and family have the sympathy of the entire community. The funeral was held on Thursday and the burial was at Stowe.

Miss Hannah Woodbury, living with Mr. Hibbard near the old Creek house, died on Monday and the funeral was on Wednesday.

A NATIVE OF MARSHFIELD.

Abraham L. Hunt, Who Died Recently in Chelsea, Mass.

Marshfield, Dec. 19.—Abraham L. Hunt, who died at Chelsea, Mass., Monday, December 9, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of that city, was a native of this place, having been born 83 years ago. He went to Chelsea when he was 18 years of age and conducted a fish market in Bellingham square in that city for 28 years. He was the oldest member of Mystic lodge, K. of P. He was a member of the old Chelsea brass band for 27 years. He was well known by Chelsea people, and many friends mourn his decease.
Mr. Hunt leaves a son, Mr. Joseph E. Hunt, and two daughters, Mrs. Florence J. Woodbury of Chelsea, and Mrs. Edward E. Sprague of Melrose.
Funeral services were held at the home of his son, at 22 Bloomingdale street, Thursday afternoon, Rev. Perry Bush, D. D., officiating. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends, including a delegation from Mystic lodge, K. of P. The pall bearers were Mayor Edward E. Willard, P. C. E. G. Strout, P. C. L. D. Seavey and Brother W. M. Hardy. The music of the services of the Knights of Pythias were conducted at the grave, under the direction of Past Chancellor E. G. Strout, chaplain. Burial was in the family lot at Woodlawn.

"MERRY CHRISTMAS" BY MAIL.

Such Message Go In Third or Fourth Class.

Washington, Dec. 19.—A statement recently published has caused the post office department to call attention to the law governing writing upon mail matter of the third and fourth classes. The department has been accredited with a statement to the effect that holiday greetings written upon mail matter of the classes mentioned might subject the offender to a fine of $10. As a matter of fact, the law governing this subject reads as follows: "Such inscriptions as 'Merry Christmas,' 'Happy New Year,' 'Best Wishes,' etc., together with the name and address of the addressee and of the sender, may be written upon mail matter of the third and fourth classes, or upon card enclosed therewith, without affecting its classification."
